5.6.1 GT Course Cancellation and Instructor Change Policy

Gwinnett Technical College will make every effort to offer scheduled courses. The College reserves the right, however, to cancel courses due to insufficient student enrollment. In the event of a course cancellation, the academic affairs office will give students the option of receiving a refund, if appropriate, or changing to another class based on availability.

The College also reserves the right to change instructors, as well as course dates, times and locations from those published in the course listings.
