2024 Award Winners

TC Parker, 2024 Rick Perkins Instructor of the Year

Gwinnett Technical College Names Surgical Technology Program Director TC Parker 2024 Rick Perkins Instructor of the Year.

"I love helping people find their niche while continuing to work in my favorite industry. There is never a dull moment! I also find that I am teaching operating room skills and helping and coaching them in many life areas. Helping them understand the importance of civic leadership and navigating the world is also important. We give them a pin when they finish, and upon pinning them, we tell them we are no longer their instructor; we are their colleague! It is an important transition that has helped us as they transition to industry by opening opportunities for the college, the program, and the students to come."

Pagna Donlevy, Georgia Occupational Award of Leadership (GOAL)

Gwinnett Technical College Residential Construction Management student Pagna Donlevy was named the Georgia Occupational Award (GOAL) of Leadership winner. "To be a GOAL winner is exciting and overwhelming. I am very grateful for continuing my educational career at GTC, and being the GOAL winner will allow me more opportunities."

Anastasiia Pliashko, Exceptional Adult Georgian in Literacy Education (EAGLE)

Anastasiia Pliashko was chosen to represent Gwinnett Technical College at the statewide EAGLE (Exceptional Adult Georgian in Literacy Education). "I always wanted to be educated and smart, and this educational journey helped me to start my life again. My relatives here helped me with enrollment, and I chose Gwinnett Tech for several reasons. First, my aunt recommended it; secondly, I read a lot about it and loved it! I could choose between online and in-person classes and make my schedule. Being named the EAGLE winner means a lot to me. It has given me the confidence to reach my goals and the motivation and opportunity to do it."
